

One Source to Solve Your Electrical Needs

As a leader in innovative industrial, mechanical, electrical, and civil construction solutions for nearly four decades, MOR PPM (PPM) can deliver a full range of electrical construction, instrumentation, and control systems installation services.

Simple Solutions for Complex Projects

PPM is frequently the industrial electrical contractor of choice for demanding and complex design/build and installation projects.

We've solved electrical needs in pulp and paper, food processing, petrochemical, and pharmaceutical facilities, as well as combined-cycle power and heavy industrial plants. We also design and construct industrial fiber optics and copper cabling for voice/data, process control, or video systems.

In addition to ground-up construction and expansion, we can also manage your yearly electrical maintenance, critical path turnarounds, emergency response services, and staff augmentation. Whatever your level of complexity, we're ready.
